THE COUNTY BOARD

Grants the Right of Way to the Proposed New Water Works.

AN INTERESTING MEETING, HELD

And Interrupted to Attend a Wedding—The Company Which is about to Put in an Electric Plant and Water Works Submits an Ordinance, which is Passed.

Yesterday the board of county commissioners held its regular monthly auditing session. The bills for the month were gone over and payment recommended to the board, the report to be submitted at the regular meeting of the board next Monday. A petition from the residents of Altenheim for permission to lay a brick walk across the National road to the Bethany pike was granted.

An ordinance was then presented to the board granting the right of way for the new water works and electric light company to lay its pipes and put up its wires and poles from the proposed power plant and reservoir at Elm Grove along the National road to Leatherwood. The ordinance also gave the right of way on all county roads crossing the pike. The Commissioners considered it unwise to consider the matter before the prosecuting attorney had passed on it, and it was therefore referred to him, and the board adjourned till 5 p. m., and the members went out to Elm Grove to attend the wedding of County Surveyor A. S. Bell, at Elm Grove.

They returned at 5:35, and the ordinance was again taken up. Some unimportant amendments were adopted, and a proposition to have the new company furnish water free to the county infirmary was broached. This, after some discussion, was voted down, and it was provided that the infirmary should have the advantages of the best terms given to citizens of Elm Grove. The ordinance was then passed.

BELL-BIRKETT.

A Notable Wedding Near Elm Grove Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Arthur Sheridan Bell and Miss Rose Ellen Birkett were married at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. James Birkett, near Elm Grove. The ceremony took place at 2:30 p. m., Rev. L. Greer, of the Presbyterian church at Elm Grove, officiating. Messrs. Robb and Adams, of this city, were the ushers, and the little nephew and niece of the bride acted as page and flower girl. The party entered the parlors to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss M. Ebeling, of Triadelphia. The ceremony was simple, but impressive.

The bride never looked more beautiful than in her gown of heliotrope tulle silk. She carried a bunch of white roses. After the hearty congratulations and sincere well wishes, over one hundred guests sat down to a very sumptuous wedding dinner.

The presents were numerous and costly, and reflected credit on the taste of the donors. Among them was one from the members of the board of county commissioners. Mr. and Mrs. Bell left on the Baltimore & Ohio road at 6 p. m. for a visit to Washington City. The wedding was pronounced by all present as the most elegant seen in that community in this generation.

IT WAS HEART DISEASE.

Mrs. Hanke, of the South Side, Died Quite Suddenly Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, Mrs. Margaret Hanke, of Eoff street, above Thirty-ninth, died quite suddenly of heart disease. Only a few minutes before her demise, Mrs. Hanke had been complaining of pain in the region of her heart. Her daughter went out of the room to procure medicine, and upon her return she found her mother in a chair gasping for breath. A physician, Dr. Stathers, was hurriedly summoned, but before he arrived the sufferer was dead.

Mrs. Hanke was about sixty-seven years old, the mother of several children, among these being William and Louis Hanke, who are employed in the iron industry as puddlers. She was also the mother of August Hanke, formerly of Wheeling and well known here. Her husband has been dead for several years.

CHANCE FOR THE CHARITABLE.

The Annual Children's Home Sack Gathering This Year.

This is the day of the year when everyone tries to have a comfortable and even beautiful meal at home, and when likewise everyone who is at all able, is glad to give to someone else who may be in need. The Children's Home of this city is a most worthy institution; it, too, depends altogether upon the charity of the community, only making a public appeal when compelled to do so. For fifteen years they have been scattering at this season large paper sacks through the city, receiving in return such things as help to support the table and fill the pantry.

Three thousand sacks have been put in the various houses of the city this week. Expressmen will begin calling for them Friday and Saturday. They will be glad to haul the sack away, however, full it may be. Let all then, who can, put something useful in the sack and have it ready for the sack gatherers promptly when they call.

It has been the custom of many of the merchants to send their contributions directly to the Home, hauling barrels of flour and sugar, or bundles of brooms, and boxes of turkeys, hams, &c., &c. All who can do the same this year will find that their donations will be most kindly received. The lady managers of the Home have charge of the sack gathering. There is no headquarters down in the city as heretofore, but the sacks as collected are hauled directly to the Home on Thirteenth street, to which place donations of any kind can also be sent.

Industrial Notes.

The work of changing the rolls at the Belmont plate mill on the South Side was expected to have been completed yesterday, but on account of a delay the work will not be done until to-day. When completed the mill will be a skelp mill. Work will be resumed here as soon as possible.

Yesterday Herman Roth and Roger Conroy drew the first kiln at the Tiltonville pottery since the late resumption at that establishment. A full force of men is now employed there.

The work of clearing away the old furnaces at the LaBelle mill on the South Side, where the new tin plate mill is to be erected, is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that work on the foundations will be started Saturday of this week.

The bar, break down and guide mills and scrap furnaces at the Etna-Standard are off.

The customary Thanksgiving social will be held at the Young Men's Christian Association building this evening. Such occasions are always enjoyed by a host of young men. Young men are invited to spend the evening at the association.
